"I was troubled for a long time with an itching humors on the scalp," says Mr. D. F. Davis, near Landing, Fla., "but after he recommended Ayer's Hair Vigor, I tried it, and a complete cure was effected." Everyone who has used it speaks well of its dressing.

Rev. George O. Baras, who is now holding a meeting in Richmond, astonished his hearers Tuesday night with the startling declaration that he would never die, but, like Elisha of old, he transferred bodily into the New Jerusalem.

For the ladies—the trimmings which will be used on ladies dresses this winter will be those of last, saving an innovation which is even now most popular. "For polka" is won. To those who wish to see a few samples go to the Courthouse Tuesday night at 8 o'clock and hear that talented and popular author, John Fox.

A little son of Dr. W. F. Taylor, who was here recently on a visit, related that on their journey here one day night found them just where they had started in the morning after running all day. He said that passengers on the train said that the trainmen were all drunk, and to switching got the train turned round in some way. He was a very bright lad and seemed to know what he was talking about.

OVATION TO BRADLEY.
Cavaliers Republicans Surround His Train This Morning.

The following telegram, received as we go to press, explains itself:
CARRISER, Ky., Oct. 12th.
Public Ledger:
Big ovation given Colonel Bradley here this morning.

Three hundred people surrounded rear of train and cheered for Bradley.
He responded in his usual happy manner.
Everybody pleased with Bradley.
H. B. BAYNE.

A WORD FOR JONAS.
Sweet maid, for thee I'd gladly die,
My heart beats but for thee;
Then art the apple of mine eye,
Say, will thou marry me?
If not—if I am doomed to live
Far from thy sunny glances—
Perhaps, my love, you'd kindly give
My old friend Jonas a chance.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.
What We May Expect For The Next Twenty-Four Hours.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNAL.
WIND STEAMER—FAIR.
Blue—BATH or SHOW.
With Black above—WILL RAIN OR SNOW.
If Black—HEAVY—CHILDREN WILL BE.
Unless Black—shown—no chance we'll have.

The above forecasts are made for a period of twenty-four hours, ending at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

We respectfully invite the cooperation of The Ledger with any other daily newspaper in the Southeastern Kentucky for any day and date a daily paper printed in the Ninth Congressional District that has a Larger or More Original Reading Matter.

We will take pleasure in presenting him with a year's subscription to THE LEDGER. And this paper is furnished at same price as other local ones.

The Republican Senatorial convention will meet at the Courthouse at 11 o'clock this morning. We will see what we will see. And the fun will come later.

MAYSVILLE HONORED.
One of Her Good Oddfellows Elected Grand Patriarch.

At the recent session of the Grand Lodge, held at Bowling Green, Mayville Oddfellows got their full share of honors.

In the Grand Encampment Mr. Byron Rudy was chosen Grand Patriarch—the highest office within the gift of that body, and he will most worthily wear the honor.

And Hon. William H. Cox was re-elected Grand Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, which will next year meet at Dallas, Texas.

In the Grand Lodge, P. G. M. William H. Cox, P. G. P. Thomas A. Davis, Allen D. Cole, W. C. Pelham, W. E. Stalcup, Byron Rudy, John W. Thompson, Simon Nelson, Joseph Lowry and James Childs all served on important committees or were appointed on Standing Committees for next year.

The session of 1896 will be held at Frankfort, and an invitation is already out for Owensboro in 1897.

LAST DAY'S SESSION.
The Southern Presbyterian Synod Adjourned Last Night.

Synod met at 9 a. m. yesterday and was opened with devotional exercises lasting thirty minutes, led by Elder J. A. Logan.

After the reading and approval of the minutes of Thursday, the overtures from the Presbytery of West Lexington and Ebenezer, touching on the boundaries of Ebenezer Presbytery, were referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures.

The Special Committee on Sabbath Observance made a lengthy report through its Chairman, Rev. Dr. Coover, and it was adopted.

A paper on sanctification was presented by Rev. A. W. Crawford. It was received and referred to the Committee on Bills and Overtures, but was afterwards stricken from the minutes.

Synod resumed its discussion on the report of the committee appointed to consider the report of Synod's Executive Committee of Evangelical Work, and owing to the prolonged discussion of this report the order of the day for 11 o'clock—Sabbath schools—was postponed until after this matter was concluded.

Report touching Synod's evangelistic work was adopted after some amendment. By order of Synod the Moderator then led in prayer for God's blessing on the evangelistic work for the year.

The public meeting in the interest of Sabbath schools was abandoned.

The records of all the Presbyteries were approved, viz: Ebenezer, West Lexington, Paducah, Louisville, Transylvania.

The committee on response to Dr. Craig's communication touching the Assembly's cause of home missions made a report, which was adopted, as was also the report of the committee on response to Dr. Richardson's address on education.

The following subject was chosen for consideration at the next meeting of Synod, the discussion to be opened by Dr. Henshull and Dr. Green. "How Can the Meeting of Church Courts be Made of Spiritual Profit to the Members of Such Courts, and Also to Our Private Church Members?"

Rev. John S. Hays, D.D., of the Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, was introduced and invited to sit as a corresponding member.

Rev. J. H. Weaver, Dr. Green and Elder Turner were appointed a committee to bring in a memorial at the next meeting of Synod on the death of Rev. E. A. Check, Transylvania Presbytery.

The thanks of Synod to the Central Presbyterian Church and the people of Mayville for their generous entertainment, etc., was passed by a rising vote.

Synod changed its time of meeting from the first Tuesday to the second Wednesday in October.

At the meeting last night Rev. Stagg delivered a fine sermon, after which Synod went into executive session.

The streetcar company was heartily thanked for the excursion it tendered Synod, and the company is assured it was appreciated highly by every member.

After singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," Synod adjourned, then did, to meet at Bowling Green the second Wednesday in October, 1896.

A large number of the delegates left this morning for their homes.

HOW THE "BLOYEVATES" OVER A FALSEHOOD.

"The Bulletin" Manufactures a Tale of Woe, and It is Proven the Parent of Fiction.

On the 4th of October The Bulletin printed this sensational article:
WELL, NOW!

What's the Matter With Colonel Worthington? He Was Here, But Didn't Speak!

Colonel W. J. Worthington, the Republican nominee for Lieutenant Governor, had an appointment to speak in this city yesterday at 1 o'clock, but he didn't speak.

Colonel Worthington arrived yesterday morning, but just why he failed to speak has not been learned.

The local Republican leaders didn't seem to care very much whether he spoke or not. The Louisville Commercial, the party organ in Kentucky, has had the Colonel's list of appointments standing in its columns a week or so, and the list was also announced in The Cincinnati Post, which has a good circulation here. And yet the Editor of The Public Ledger and the Chairman of the Senatorial District Committee and others prominent in local g. o. p. circles didn't know Colonel Worthington had an appointment to speak here until informed of the fact last Tuesday by the Editor of The Bulletin.

They were told that the appointment was announced in the first two papers named. Ample time was thus given to advertise the speaking, but the only notice of it, a three line local in The Public Ledger Wednesday, Tuesday last, and not a word yesterday, and didn't seem to know the Colonel was in town.

The Colonel was here all the same, and must have felt very much put out at his chilly reception. A gentleman from Portsmouth, who was in town and who knows Mr. Worthington, commented on the failure of the local Republicans to extend their nominee for Lieutenant Governor any courtesies at all.

It was very shabby treatment, it must be admitted, not only on the part of the Republican State Committee, but of the local leaders as well. They seem to think that Boss Bradley is the only one to be advertised, and the only one in the fight.

Colonel Worthington's friends will probably be heard from later on.

The LEDGER made diligent inquiry, and it could find no mortal man who had seen Colonel Worthington in Mayville as The Bulletin had asserted, so a letter was written to Colonel Worthington, and below is the reply that came from his law partner.

Absence of the Editor of THE LEDGER from the city is the cause of delay in printing it.

GREEKSVILLE, Ky., October 7th, 1895.
Thomas A. Davis, Editor Public Ledger, Mayville, Ky.—Dear Sir: Yours of the 4th inst. to Colonel W. J. Worthington to hand, and replying for him would say: Colonel Worthington was in Greensburg, at his home, on Thursday, October 3d, he left Greensburg Friday, October 4th; no appointment was made for him to speak in Mayville on the 5th or on any other day during this campaign; the announcement in The Louisville Commercial is a mistake due to the reporter only. Trusting you will set the matter right before your people, I am very respectfully,
ROBERT O. MAYNARD.

Query—Will The Bulletin have the politeness to retract its false statement?

MAYSVILLE'S GREAT NEED.
An Institution That Makes the Young Men Good Citizens.
All over this broad land of ours Young Men's Christian Associations are springing into existence as fast as the people become aware of the great need of such an institution.
No city in this broad land has a greater need for the peculiar work of the Young Men's Christian Association than has Mayville; business men in other cities or in this are erecting buildings especially for the prosecution of this work, and endowing special departments, because it is practical and commends itself to them; the great railroad corporations of the country are erecting Young Men's Christian Association buildings and maintaining them in order that their men may come under its influence.
We do not ask today for a special building or for an endowment, valuable though they would be to our work. We only ask that the young men become sufficiently interested in this great work so as to enable us to conduct an aggressive work for the coming year, in the interest of those, who in a decade hence, will hold the reins of government, will be the heads of our families, will decide the destinies of our city and country.
When our cause is presented to you personally, as it will be during the coming season, we sincerely trust that you will be prompt and liberal in your response in order that the required number of names may be secured so as to enable us to organize an all-round association and to provide a place for young men to elevate themselves, and we doubt not that our God in whom we trust and for whom we labor will bless you and honor your service in the salvation of many men.
The aim of the association is to provide for young men advantages for amusement, recreation and self-improvement, with such surroundings as are calculated to turn their thoughts towards higher and nobler things and thus contribute to their usefulness as citizens and Christians. Reading room, provided with all the latest and best literature; an amusement room, provided with innocent games which require long hours without injury to character or pocket-book; a gymnasium, supplied with the most modern apparatus for physical culture, under the supervision of a trained physical director; bathrooms, which are calculated to contribute to man's appearance and comfort, and the religious meetings and Bible classes are to be found in the equipment of the association. It will be understood that these things only serve to show the outlines upon which is conducted a most comprehensive work for the all round development of young men.
Isn't such an institution as the worthy the support of any citizen?
On next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Men's Gospel Meetings will be resumed for the coming winter and it is hoped that all who are sufficiently interested in their future welfare will make it convenient to be present.

The Fayette County Teachers' Association has just held a very interesting session. A well known nurseryman of Lexington has offered every school in that county all the shade trees necessary to shade the schoolyard free of cost.
Among the contestants for a seat in the Fifty fourth Congress will be Taylor Beattie of the Third Louisiana District against Andrew Price. Beattie is a grandson of the late Judge Adam Beattie of this county and was named for the late John D. Taylor of this city, who married a Miss Reed, the aunt of Beattie.
The Bourbon Fiscal Court decided to order a vote on the free turpentine question at the November election. The petition to the court contained 1,988 names, which is a few more than is required by law to secure the election. There is little doubt that for the free pine question will carry. There are 250 miles of turpentine in Bourbon county. The county already has $75,000 invested in turpentine.
